MARY POPE OSBORNE is the author of the New York Times number one bestselling Magic Tree House series, as well as co-author of the Magic Tree House Fact Tracker series with her husband,

Will, and her sister, Natalie Pope Boyce. ã ã SAL MURDOCCA has illustrated over 200 children's trade and textbooks. He teaches children's illustration at Parsons School of Design in New York City.

A great easy reader for my little guy, who is learning to read by himself. The language is fairly simple and he can ask me about the more difficult words. The plots are engaging and keeps him wanting to read to find out the ending. We love all the Magic Tree House volumes!

The Magic Tree house books have gotten my first-grader grandson interested in reading. Soon he will be able to read them himself, but for now his father has been reading a few chapters to him every night. Sometimes the topics lead to further discussion which makes him want to learn more. Buying the books in sets of four is economical, plus an extra goodie is included (poster, question cards, etc.)

The Magic Treehouse Books are fantastic! My daughter and her 2nd grade classmates are really interested in them. They typically read an entire book within a day or two. By far the best aspect of these books is that they are educational!

My 8yr old son loves Magic Treehouse books (as do I)! Most are very enjoyable stories. I bought this boxed set since he was getting close to needing it. Unfortunately I failed to check it out thoroughly before the return window closed. Our set came with two #26 books and no #25 books. Urgh! No issue with the stories, just the boxed set packaging I guess.

You can't go wrong with Magic Tree House books for young readers. They enjoy the "chapter" books, each chapter is full of suspense, these are page turners for early readers.

This was a Christmas gift for our 7 year old grandson and he started reading the stories to us that day!

Purchased for my grandson. He loves this series of books

I am buying these for my granddaughter.
