Joan Zoloth lives in Northern California, where she writes for the Oakland Tribune. This is her first book. Lisa Hubbard is a food, garden, and still life photographer based in New York. Her photographs have been published in several magazines, including Town & Country and Martha Stewart Living.

This is more than a cookbook - there are also activities for each holiday. It is a great reference for kids so they can make their own contributions with simple things to cook and make. Mom's can also refer to it for ideas and recipes. Our favorite for sure is the gingerbread sukkah pictured on the cover (which can also be done with sugar cookie dough).

this is Ok but could have had more input into the major holidays

This book is just what I was looking for with craft and food ideas in which the whole family, including Grandma, can participate!

I am pleased with this book
